Recommendation Letter for Dominic Teo

Dominic completed an eight-week (June to August 2017) internship at Sino-Singapore Tianjin Eco-City Project Office in Singapore's Ministry of National Development. I was his supervisor during his internship.

His key tasks included a research report and a presentation on the role and development of public housing in China, especially Tianjin and the Eco-City. He also helped with logistics arrangements for two official visits by Chinese government delegations to Singapore.

During his internship, Dominic demonstrated positive qualities such as determination and willingness to learn new skills. Despite being relatively inexperienced with the subject matter when he first started, he picked up the knowledge fairly quickly. He was willing to put in hard work by revising his drafts and continuously improving on his work. He was a good team player and collaborated well with other interns to put up a joint presentation.

To conclude, I believe that Dominic will be a valuable addition to your organisation if you offer him an internship opportunity.

Sincerely,

Angeline Ang
